KEYS TO HEALTH & WHOLENESS

This brand new event is designed to equip you with a clear, straightforward understanding of the Biblical principles for wholeness, health and healing. It will help you live a fruitful, whole life by embracing God's guidelines for good health and will give you practical tools for helping others too.

We will look at health and wholeness from a medical perspective seated firmly within a Biblical worldview. This means that we will consider not just the physical body but also our whole being (body, soul and spirit) as well as the potential effects of the unseen spiritual world on health and wholeness.

You will learn keys to help you resolve health issues that you do not need to put up with and discover how to live well despite the limitations of your physical body.

We will consider questions such as:

- what can I do practically to be as healthy as possible?
- how do spiritual issues affect physical health?
- under what circumstances can we expect to see supernatural healing today?

This conference is for any Christian who has an interest in understanding health issues from a Biblical perspective. It will also bring useful insights to church leaders and Christian health professionals into how to help those in their care find wholeness.

Speakers:

Steve Goss, FICM's International Director together with Alison Fleetwood, Sue Sorensen and Mary Wren, all practising GPs.

Cost: £40 per person.
